The background features a large, stylized crescent moon in shades of yellow and blue, set against a dark blue textured background. In the foreground, two hands are shown from the waist up, wearing red and brown robes. The hands are joined together in a gesture of prayer or offering, with fingers interlaced.

Tatqiq.

A colorful illustration of two young children, a boy and a girl, standing in a snowy field at night. They are both wearing red hats with white pom-poms, white scarves, and puffy winter coats. The boy's coat is green with a large yellow circle on the front, and the girl's coat is yellow with a purple sleeve. They are both smiling and appear to be playing in the snow. The background features dark blue night sky with small yellow stars and several bare trees with white, fuzzy catkins.

Hunalu takuviung?

Ideas:

- Go through book again and ask students to practice the sentence, Qanuq taivakpiung _____ Inuinnaqtun. (How do you say _____ in Inuinnaqtun). Do this with different words from the images or even around the classroom.
- Once students know the word for star/s ask them to count the stars on the page. Hunalu takuviung? Where there are no stars they need to learn the negative – there are no stars.
- Practice verbs such as, who is talking, walking, jumping, smiling, sitting? Answer could be one (or both) child, snowman, grandma is talking, walking, smiling.
- Practice colours with nouns– what colour is the hat, scarf, parka, mitts, boots, skirt, backpack, snow, rabbit, willow?
